

Tips for Online Download of Free Ringtones

Personalizing their mobile phone with new ringtones has become quite a pastime for many people. Still, there may be a few who are still in the dark about the methods of online download of free ringtones. Here are some useful tips for people newly interested in personalizing their mobile phones through free ringtones download.

- ▶ Free ringtones may differ from country to country.
- ▶ You would need a computer with a high-speed Internet connection.
- ▶ Most free ringtones are available just at the click of a mouse.
- ▶ Some mobile phones do not allow download from the online sources. If you have tried downloading free ringtones unsuccessfully, it is a good idea to check the acceptance levels of your mobile phone from your vendor.
- ▶ There are two common types of free ringtones. One is monophonic ringtone and the other is a polyphonic ringtone. You should find out which format is supported by your mobile phone. This is generally mentioned in the phone's user guide.
- ▶ Not all websites are safe and authenticated. Some install spyware, which can harm your computer. It is important to find a good and reputed website; otherwise you can download a host of viruses, besides the desired free ringtones.
- ▶ It is always better to find the websites for download of free ringtones, which do not ask for a membership fee. They may be part of a scam.
- ▶ Many phone companies offer promotions with free ringtones, which can be easily downloaded from the Internet just by the click of a mouse. Similar promotions are in vogue from various other leading companies, who are manufactures and marketers of various FMCG products. These companies send you the link, which leads directly to the free ringtone, without increasing the mobile phone bills.
- ▶ The avenue of free ringtones can also be a very creative process. Some phones allow you to compose your own melodies for ringtones. This simply means that you can create new ringtones by pushing some buttons. For this, some programs may need to be downloaded on the computers or mobile phones. Generally, free programs are simple and allow creation of monophonic and polyphonic free ringtones. Many people interested in music composition find creating free ringtones a refreshing pastime. Another advantage of composing your own free ringtone is that chances are that your ringtone would be very different from others'. Some musicians have also made it a full-time career choice.
